PENSHURST C.E. PRIMARY SCHOOL

We are always proud of the children at Penshurst, but we have been particularly impressed by how enthusiastically they have embraced our efforts to broaden the range of games played across the school at lunchtime.

With the support and guidance of some of our Y6 Ambassadors, Max, William, George, Leo and Gilbert there has been a wonderful revival of traditional games, including manhunt, 40:40 and dodgeball, to name just a few! The children have shown great respect for our ambassadors, listening to the rules, supporting one another and, most importantly, getting involved. Football, four square and table tennis remain popular favourites, but it has been a joy to see the excitement surrounding new games and the genuine play and friendships developing across year groups. We often talk about the sense of community that makes Penshurst special, and lunchtime play is a wonderful example of this. We are particularly proud of the children's enthusiasm, positive attitudes and willingness to give something new a go.

Please do ask your child which games they have tried, which they enjoy and whether they have any ideas for others we could introduce. The old favourites really are some of the best! Our hope is that, by the end of the year, all children will feel confident joining in with a wide range of games.

Of course, we recognise that not everyone wants to play organised games every day. Relaxing, walking, chatting, enjoying the trim trail or playing their own imaginary games are all equally encouraged. Above all, we want lunchtime to be a happy, inclusive part of the school day, with opportunities for everyone. We will continue to listen to pupil voice and welcome ideas to help make lunchtimes enjoyable
